Endless hours of love and support from our Oxfam-ily

"When I first started going to Oxfam meetings, I was immediately drawn to the group's knowledge of social justice, activism, and bond with one another. Over the years, my involvement with Oxfam has provided me with a way to respond to social issues in the world and with countless friendships."
-Maria Sauer '17

"I joined Oxfam originally because I love the mission of the organization: to right the wrong of oppression and poverty. But the incredible women I work with are what bring me to meetings every week. I love this group, and I will cherish our memories and accomplishments for years to come!"
- Maggie McConnaha '18

"Oxfam caught my attention because it tackles the issue of poverty through injustice throughout the world. As a person with privilege I feel its important to work to lift all people from around the world to their fullest potential and that we all benefit from equality Oxfam offers the perfect opportunity for people at SNC to confront property and global issues in an informative, but fun environment."
